Papers Contests

The papers contests in some of our local clubs have proved to be very popular, and your CSNA officers would like to see this program installed in more local organizations. My home club has for the past several years held a manuscript contest, and while for some years we had only two or three contestants, last year six very fine papers were submitted.

The person writing an article will find that he has at the same time a very good idea for an exhibit. Likewise, an exhibitor will find that he has the material for an article. Both revolve around history and geography, so it is no problem to find coins, medals, tokens and paper money that will fit into your article and exhibit.

Looking at this from the local club angle, it will be found that those members who enter the papers contest will be the next club speakers, and will be able to share their numismatic knowledge with their fellow members. The club will not have to depend on outside speakers for each meeting.

Some of the newer and smaller clubs may have difficulty in selecting a judging committee of experienced numismatists. In this case, your CSNA officers will be glad to serve as judges. If this service is desired, the papers should be forwarded to our Calcoin News editor or one of the assistant editors. It should be kept in mind when judging these papers that numismatic information is of prime importance, rather than English composition, spelling and punctuation.

From Calcoin News' standpoint these papers when submitted to our editor give him some very fine articles for use in future issues. Also, if the writer desires, his article may be forwarded to a national magazine such as The Numismatist or the Numismatic Scrapbook. It is quite an honor to have an article appear in print in a numismatic publication, and shows that the effort spent on the paper is worthwhile.

The local club should offer two or three prizes for the best papers; and all papers submitted then forwarded to our Calcoin News editor or assistant editor. The articles selected for publication are edited carefully before being printed. When the articles appear in Calcoin News they have a chance at the most coveted of all awards — our CSNA Literary Award. At the April convention each year this award is made for the two best articles appearing in Calcoin News for the previous year—a silver medal for first place, and a bronze medal for second.

1802, G1, WITH AND WITHOUT UNDERTYPE OF LARGE CENT

The United States Half Cent

By WILLIAM R. WEBER, San Jose

COINAGE OF 1807: 38,000 minted; 1 variety, listed in Gilbert. The same reverse was used for this year as for the 1806 G 3 (large 6 with stems). While not a rare date, it is rarely seen well struck or in mint state. Only a few are known with sharp lettering and clear denticles. On all others of 1807, lettering and date appear to be recessed into the planchet (see plate). Die injury may have been responsible for this condition, as it would seem normal die wear would not have produced such a large number of low relief coins. Yet, oddly, the reverse wreath of this year is generally clearer than that of the 1806 issue.

COINAGE OF 1808: 400,000 minted; 3 varieties. Gilbert lists one overdate (G 1), and two normal date obverses (G2 and 3) all having the same reverse. The experts say it should be one normal date and overdate with the same reverse die, and the overdate obverse with a newly discovered and extremely rare reverse die. The re-engraved obverse listed by Gilbert (his No. 3) apparently has never been seen or verified.

COINAGE OF 1809: 1,154,572 minted; 6 varieties, 5 listed by Gilbert. This is the first year of the Turban or Classic Head obverse and a new wreath reverse without the fraction 1/200 used on all reverses up to this time. Two overdates are known: the popular but common 1809/6 and the very scarce small o inside large 0. In this date the collector will find a comparatively good selection of nice condition coins from which to choose. The extremely rare unlisted variety has the G 3 obverse and a new reverse listed by Breen.

COINAGE OF 1810: 215,000 minted; 1 variety, listed by Gilbert. Breen says "Possibly only 10,000 of those issued were dated 1810." The remainder probably bear the date 1809. This is another year, like that of 1807, which is difficult to obtain in choice condition, though generally it is found better struck.

COINAGE OF 1811: 63,140 minted; 2 varieties, listed in Gilbert, a date much scarcer than the number struck would indicate. In July 1811, the Director of the Mint stopped coinage of the denomination, as demand for the half cent was practically nonexistent. A large number of this date presumably were held in the Mint to be used as alloy for gold and silver coinage. The rare G 2 of this year sometimes is found with a heavy obverse die break connecting the first four stars on the left. Coinage of "early date" half cents came to an end in 1811.

Almost from its initial appearance, the half cent was given a cool reception. The public had little use for the coin; merchants and banks in particular were not at all pleased with this denomination, overwhelmingly preferring the large cent. It was, as Jefferson had predicted, a coin that would perform little if any public service. The lobbying of Robert Morris and Hamilton succeeded in selling Congress on the denomination, but neglected to foresee public indifference. Hamilton is said to have expressed the desirability of having a half cent on the grounds that this small coin would "enable the poor to buy cheaply and therefore labor for less" (a union man to the core). It was principally in the rural areas that the half cent found its most favorable though limited acceptance. Another consideration which may have had a bearing on the half cent's popularity was the method by which it was distributed from the Mint. According to Carothers, copper was not a common metal in this country and was imported principally from England. It was Treasury custom to send casks of newly minted half cents to the various Government offices for distribution. At times the market price of copper rose to a point where copper coins were worth more as metal than as coin; when this occurred, industrial concerns needing copper would buy the casks of copper coins and melt them down to suit their particular needs.

To determine the approximate number of half cents still available, the reader is referred to a monograph by Walter Breen in Coin Collector's Journal No. 159, "Silver Coinage of the Philadelphia Mint 1794-1916": "It has long been an intuitively obvious principle that something about the rarity of a coin can be deduced from the number minted, the obvious exceptions being coins of which hoards have been found or which were saved in quantity as first year of issue, and coins on which destructive forces have acted to an inordinate extent. Making the assumption that extant examples of any denomination, with the above exceptions, form a representative random sample of the original mintage, we arrive at a 'natural law' of American numismatics; in most of the early years of a given denomination, the ratio Number Extant: Number Coined is approximately constant. Each denomination has its own characteristic percentage. For half-cents, 1793-1811, except 1800 and 1806 of which hoards were found, about 0.7% of the original mintage remains in collectors' hands."

Breen's estimate verifies what many half cent collectors have suspected for some time, and will serve to alert a newcomer as to what is in store for him. The large cent collector has a much easier row to hoe in relation to coins available, as more than 19 times as many large cents as half cents were minted 1793-1857, and the ratio extant is at least five times greater. This favorable situation is tempered somewhat by the greater number of large cent to half cent collectors.

To anyone interested in pursuing these humble coppers may I offer this suggestion. Get all the information you can locate on the coin. Much information exists that is not presented in this article. One can do himself a service by doing some research on his own and make his "cherry picking" an easier task. A list of some of the publications with information on the half cent is provided at the end of this article. Books, monographs, articles and catalogs I have found particularly interesting and helpful are included, most of which are easily obtained. Many exist which I have not seen, the Alvord sale by Chapman being an example. Walter Breen is the aeknowledged "Big Daddy" for information on the half cent. When his book appears it probably will be recommended reading for everyone interested in U. S. numismatics, and required reading for all half eent eollectors.

COINAGE OF 1825-1835: Quantities minted are same as those listed in the Guide Book. No new varieties reported; all are listed by Gilbert. There is only one really rare year (1831) in this series of late dates; all other years are relatively eommon. There are a few varieties in this group that are not easily found in choice condition. The 1828 12-star variety (G 3) is one that is sometimes offered in AU with mint luster, but is really rare in choice mint state. The 1828 is most common, and the 1835 next, as years most frequently found in uncirculated condition. Among those dates offered in this group, not too many are really choice uncirculated; many are found in varying degrees of AU with edge nicks, carbon spots, and discoloration disregarded by the seller. Even worse are the dipped, stripped, or cyanided eoins offered as brilliant uncirculated GEMS. It is prineipally for this reason that I suggest that you know the seller to avoid the disappointment that comes with reeeiving this type of misrepresented material. The reputable dealer will list the defects and will give you a fair shake and no "whoopie doo" on refunding your money if you are not satisfied with his offering.

The "big gun" in this date group, and rarest date of all the half cents struck for circulation, is the 1831. Why the Red Book continues to list this in proof only, and, by doing so, infers that it belongs to the proof only coinage, is hard to understand. Unlike the 1836, this year was struck for circulation in very low quantity (2200). The only possible reason for the 1831 being considered a proof-only year is that it is most frequently offered in proof (with reverse of 1836). There probably are a half-dozen known in VG to VF condition, with a like number in uncirculated and (original) proof, making it much rarer as a date than the highly touted 1796. Proofs are known for all but two years in this group, those being 1825 and 1826. The three commonest (R 5 - R 6) dates in proof are 1833, 1834 and 1835.

1811, G2, EARLY AND LATE STATES OF DIE

COINAGE OF 1849-1857: Quantities minted are same as those listed in the Guide Book. The Coronet Head or Braided Hair type, adopted in 1840 for the proof-only coinage, completes the types and writes an end to the half cent coinage. While lower in mintage than the preceding Classic Head, it is easier to obtain in mint state. The 1857 would rate second highest in rarity in uncirculated condition by its catalog price, but the 1850 is more difficult to obtain in that condition. There are two reverses for the 1850, 1954 and 1856 coins issued for circulation. The new and rare reverse is difficult to determine and is identified by a rust pit in the die that appears as a lump on the top right of I in United. The proof coins issued in this type are of about the same rarity as are those of the Classic Heads, the commonest being 1856, with the 1854, 1855 and 1857 only a bit rarer.

FINAL TYPE OF THE HALF CENT

PROOF ONLY COINAGE: Originals and Restrikes of 1836, 1840-1849 and 1852. This is the most challenging and difficult group of all half cents to assemble in all die combinations; by necessity, it is a section of limited appeal (but not desire) to the average collector. The low number of coins available in this group results in asking prices that quickly separate the haves from the have nots. If we include the two restrikes of 1831 and one each of 1856 and 1857, we can assemble a total of 40 pieces that probably would cost more than $7500, if they could be obtained at all. All coins in this group are at least R 6 (13 to 30 available) and are generally offered in proof. Those few that have been circulated or mishandled are offered in VF or EF but most often at prices which hardly cause one to dash off a check by the next mail. Here, too, is the most fertile area of the electrotype copy, so be forewarned and cautious, for some of the copies are very difficult to distinguish from the genuine. Most often the seller is aware of his merchandise and will state that it is an electro. But some don't know fair from foul and here the collector can be unwittingly burned (but the pain's the same). Last year I was offered a date set of this group and what tickled me most was that they were offered as "genuine electrotypes." I sincerely hope that the day is not here when we will be expected to distinguish the "phony" phonies from the "genuine" phonies. Deliver me, please.

While on the subject, let's cover the restrike and determine its status. A restrike is a coin struck in a year (generally much later and technically a forgery) other than that on the coin, from genuine dies or dies extremely similar to those regularly used. Some were struck under semi-official auspices, others without mint knowledge, but all primarily were intended for numismatic purposes. It is said that many of the restrikes struck were used as swapping material by the Mint with well-known collectors of the 1860s and 1870s for coins that the Mint wanted for its collection. All of the half cent restrikes are very rare, some much rarer than the originals. Many consider the 1804 silver dollar, the "transitional pattern" dimes and half dimes among others, as having originated for this purpose. The copper-nickel restrikes (by the Mint) conclude this special series. The copper-nickel half cents of 1854 and 1856 are really trial pieces struck to show the appearance of the copper-nickel alloy proposed for the small cent coinage. The striking of the 1854 coins is believed to have occurred in error (only 2 known) in 1856. The 1856 issue exceeded 50 pieces, both years struck with regular issue dies.

NON-OFFICIAL, COPIES AND COUNTERFEITS:

1. 1793 with head of Washington; regular reverse; known by only two specimens, one of which is in the National Collection. The obverse of this piece is a shell and the reverse is from a genuine half cent of the year. The work of skillfully joining the obverse shell to the reverse is attributed to Edwin Bishop of New York City. The work by Bishop was so well done it deceived one of the most respected numismatists of the time, Sylvester Crosby, who considered it a pattern in his monograph on the coinage of 1793.

2. 1796 with pole, Edwards Copies: First sold in public auction in this country in 1866 by dealer Woodward. Dies used for striking of the 12 pieces supposedly were destroyed after Edwards' death. This copy is not likely to deceive anyone reasonably well acquainted with half cents of the period. Almost all features of the coin are coarser than those of U. S. Mint issue.

3. 1811 with reverse of 1802: Reportedly, only six copies were struck on order of J. J. Mickley, a Philadelphia numismatist, about 1862. After Mickley's death, the government repurchased the dies.

4. 1837 half cent of pure copper (Low 49). A Hard Times Token issued privately for circulation during the "Hard Times" of Jackson's tenure as President. It probably is not so important or as scarce as the Massachusetts half cents of 1787-1788 for inclusion in a type or series set.

Julio-Claudian Dynasty Women

By KURT E. LORET, San Francisco

A Roman Emperor was never an emperor nor did he hold imperial office in the sense that later emperors of Europe did. Rather, he held a number of offices concurrently (such as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, consul, etc.) as well as a number of honors, some of them divine, all of which kept him and the members of his family above the level of the average Roman citizen.

What was the status of the families of such men — particularly their wives? According to law and custom these women were not allowed to hold any public office; they could share only the divine rank of the men. It is the coinage of ancient Rome which provides the story of their rank and of their varied fortunes. The Roman emperors gradually came to be thought of as divine—at first only posthumously; this also was true of their wives and other members of their immediate families.

With respect to the women of the Julio-Claudian dynasty, the first portrait coin bearing the face of a woman was that of Livia, struck posthumously by her son, Emperor Tiberius. Livia, a member of the Claudian house, had been kidnaped by Augustus and had later become his wife. At her insistence, he had adopted Tiberius, a child by her previous marriage, and thus made him heir to the Empire.

Augustus' only daughter by his first marriage (he was thrice-married) was Julia. She too was thrice-married; and her second husband, Agrippa, a close friend of Augustus, served as an admiral for him. However, a series of scandals arising from her widely-publicized immoral behavior forced Augustus to banish her from Rome. The rare coins which show Julia's portrait bear either her likeness, or that of her father and herself.

Despite her banishment, Julia's grandson was to become Emperor of Rome. Tiberius, who was himself without an heir, had no choice but to appoint Caligula as his successor. Caligula was the son of Tiberius' nephew Germanicus and of Julia's daughter, Agrippina the Elder. Germanicus was the son of Antonia (daughter of Mark Anthony) and Nero Claudius Drusus.

Following the death of Agrippina the Elder (by her own hand while a prisoner) her portrait was placed on coinage by her son, Caligula, since it was politically advantageous for him to do so. She had, after all, been the very model of a Roman matron during her lifetime, and her husband also had been extremely popular.

Caligula, a despot, and in his later career quite obviously insane, not only desired that he himself be considered divine but also claimed the same honor for his three sisters. A coin bearing the likenesses of Agrippina, Drusilla and Julia commemorates this event. However, when Drusilla died, the two remaining sisters fell from favor. Eventually Caligula, his wife Caesonia, and their infant were murdered by the army, which then proclaimed Claudius, brother of Germanicus, as successor.

Claudius, although basically a "good" emperor, seemed to have particularly poor luck in choosing his wives. He discovered a plot by Messalina to murder him and to place her most recent lover on the throne as his successor. Messalina was put to death, and it seems justifiable that he then struck coins bearing the portrait of his mother, Antonia. Claudius later married Agrippina the Younger, whose son Nero (by a former marriage) was adopted by Claudius at her urging. Nero, as a dutiful son, showed his gratitude, first by placing her portrait on the imperial coinage of Rome, then later by ordering her death by drowning. He also murdered his first wife (and step-sister) Octavia, daughter of Tiberius, whom he had married to obtain the throne. Nero then married Poppaea, who bore him Claudia, a child who died in infancy. Poppaea herself expired as the result of a kick administered by Nero.

With the eventual death of Nero by suicide in 68 A.D., the Julio-Claudian dynasty came to an end.

DID YOU KNOW

That Benjamin Franklin, whose portrait appears on our half dollar, was the first postmaster general of the United States and that he is best known for his thoughts in the matter of " a penny saved is a penny earned."

Pieces of Eight

By DAN HARLEY, Pomona

> "And the parrot would say, with great rapidity, 'Pieces of eight', till you wondered that it was not out of breath."
> —Treasure Island

Pieces of eight! Magic words are these for they conjure up visions of unwieldy galleons, swash-buckling buccaneers and hidden treasure. Known to the English speaking world as Spanish Milled Dollars, they were familiarly called "pieces of eight" because their value was eight reales. They trickled into early California as coin of the realm.

These historic coins were first struck at the Mexico City Mint on March 29, 1732. It was an auspicious occasion. Marquez de Casafuente, Viceroy of Mexico, was present as were Jose Fernandez Veitia Linaje, superintendent of the mint, and Francisco Menller, the mint die-sinker.

The front or obverse side of the coin drips with symbolism. The crowned pillars represent the Straits of Gilbraltar, known to the ancients as the "Pillars of Hercules." According to legend, these pillars were once united and were torn asunder by Hercules in one of his fabulous feats of strength. Between the pillars, the two hemispheres under a royal crown denote the Spanish King's claim to dominance of both the Old and New Worlds.

The theme of the union of the two worlds is borne out by the motto, "Utraque Unum," meaning "both are one." The joined hemispheres rest on a wavy, semicircular base, indicative of Spain's claim to mastery of the seas that washed the shores of the two worlds.

These coins, also called "pillar dollars," were minted only in the Spanish colonies. They were produced at mints in Chile, Colombia, Bolivia, Peru and Guatemala, but the total output of these provinces cannot compare with the 478,305,907 pieces struck in Mexico City between 1732 and 1772.

Pieces of eight were minted under three Spanish kings, Philip V from 1732 to 1746; Ferdinand VI from 1747 to 1759; and Charles III from 1760 to 1772. It is interesting to note that so slow was news to travel that when Philip V died in July 1746, coins in his name were minted into part of 1747, and when Ferdinand VI passed away in August 1759, coins bearing his name were struck in the following year.

Pillar dollars quickly made their way through the world. They were sent by ship to California from Acapulco, Mexico, in exchange for goods and for payment of salaries of officials and the soldiery. They were the only coins during the eighteenth century that had world-wide acceptance and consequently were used as a standard of value.

Due to the lack of smaller denominations the Spanish Milled Dollar was frequently cut into eight pieces, called bits, from which comes the expression "two bits," "four bits," etc.

These fascinating coins are of great interest to students of American history. During colonial times they were very popular among some 30 different kinds of money in circulation. The Continental Congress made its currency payable in Spanish Milled Dollars. Failing to redeem these notes gave rise to the slang expression of "not worth a continental."

In 1782 the Congress of the Confederation ordered Robert Morris, Superintendent of Finance, to report "a table of rates at which the different species of foreign coins most likely to circulate within the United States." His study revealed that the Spanish Milled Dollar came nearest to a general standard.

Following the adoption of the Constitution, Congress established a monetary system with the "piece of eight" as a pattern for its dollar. Moreover, in 1793 it adopted a law providing that after three years "all foreign silver coins except Spanish milled dollars and parts of such dollars, shall cease to be legal tender." In 1797, President John Adams issued his proclamation to enforce the statute. Interestingly enough, "pieces of eight" were legal tender in the United States until 1857. Just a few years before they had been pushed from the pedestal of popularity in California by gold bullion and gold coins.

Erie Canal So-Called Dollar

By MAURICE M. GOULD, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

An extremely rare so-called dollar recently has come to light—the Erie Canal piece of 1826.

As a result of the failure of the federal government to help the Erie Canal project, supporters of the project proposed that the State of New York finance the canal. The canal issue was one of the most important in the gubernatorial contest of 1817. DeWitt Clinton campaigned as a pro-canal candidate. Following his victory at the polls and his inauguration, work on the canal began at Rome, N. Y.

The project was completed in 1825 and on Oct. 26 of that year the barge Seneca Chief set out from Buffalo to New York City. When it arrived Nov. 4, there was an elaborate celebration, the climax of which was the dumping of a barrel of Lake Erie water into the Atlantic Ocean.

The completion of the Erie Canal inaugurated a new era in the growth of New York City, Buffalo, and other communities.

To my knowledge, only two of the Erie Canal dollars had come to light until the discovery of this new piece in silver by Frank Washburn and Maurice M. Gould. This medal came in a small wooden box which says THIS BOX/was made out of a piece/ of wood, brought from Erie / in the first Canal Boat / THE SENECA CHIEF. In the other cover, it says, PRESENTED BY THE CITY OF NEW YORK [to Thomas Franklin] and shows an eagle on a globe. The medal is silver with a small hole at top. The obverse shows eagle on a globe with a small sailing ship at right and ERIE CANAL COMM. 4 JULY 1817, COMP 26 OCT 1825. At the bottom is the date, 1826, and PRESENTED BY THE CITY OF NEW YORK. Reverse legend is UNION OF ERIE WITH THE ATLANTIC. Two mythological characters, Pan and Neptune, are shown seated. Diameter is 44 mm.

This medal is in slightly used condition, even though it has been in the original box.

The other two specimens known are in a white metal composition. This would be the first known to have been found in silver, and probably is a presentation piece given to some celebrity.

It is hoped that, with all of the interest in So-Called Dollars at the present time, many other unusual items will come to light.

BAR-KOKHBA COINS

The Israel Numismatic Society is preparing the publication of the sixth volume of the Corpus Nummorum Palaestinensium: "The Coins of the Bar-Kokhba War" which is written by Dr. L. Mildenberg of Zurich and Leo Kadman of Tel-Aviv.

As with the previous five volumes of the Corpus, we wish to include also in the coming one the greatest possible number of existing specimens of the various types. Therefore, we would be grateful if curators of museums, as well as private collectors, who have coins of the Bar-Kokhba War (Second Revolt) in their possession, would kindly inform us about it. — The Israel Numismatic Society, Tel-Aviv, Israel, P.O.B. 392.

History of Convention Host

SACRAMENTO VALLEY COIN CLUB

By LESLEY G. LODGE

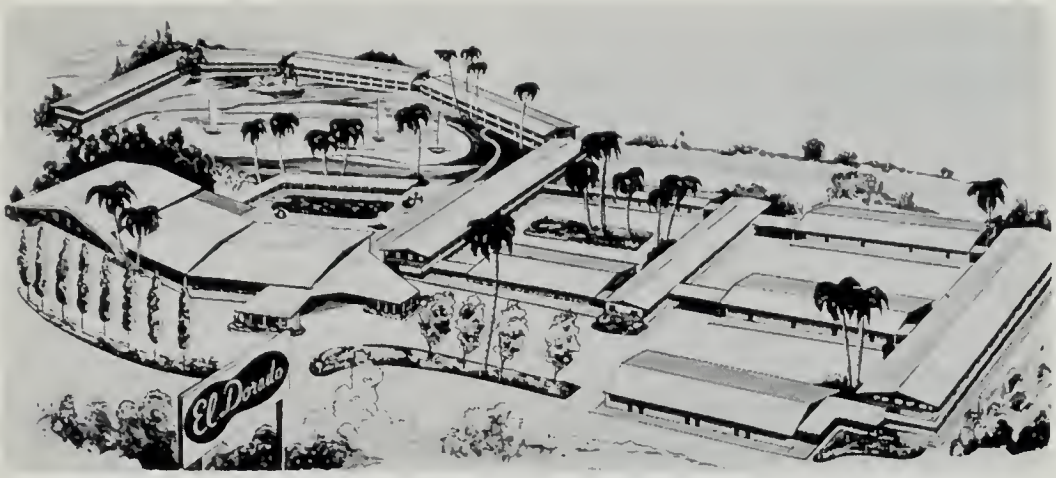
Early in spring 1956, two avid coin collectors, Steve Reynolds and Lew Walker, got together weekly to discuss their hobby. A few others joined them, and in September 1956 the club was started officially. By the end of the year, there were 35 charter members. Today, just six years later, membership has reached the 150 mark!

Sacramento Valley Coin Club has had the privilege of being host or co-host five times to the local Tri-City Coin Carnival (Sacramento, Stockton and Modesto). SVCC will be host again to this carnival, in Sacramento, in October of this year.

For the past three years, SVCC has sponsored a children's Christmas party for three of the Sacramento orphanages. In addition to the feeling of satisfaction of seeing these children have an enjoyable time, this activity has resulted in considerable publicity and much good will for the club.

SVCC is proud to be host, for the first time, to CSNA. A group of hard working committee chairmen, under leadership of Lew Walker, has been formed, to carry through with the many details incident to handling the convention.

The 1962 SVCC officers — Lew Walker, president; Charles Willock, vice president; Marilyn Hahn, recording secretary; Fred Weber, corresponding secretary; and Dorothy Fumal, treasurer — invite all CSNA members to Sacramento, April 5-8, to participate in what they believe will be the largest and best of all CSNA conventions.



EL DORADO HOTEL, CONVENTION HEADQUARTERS

Sacramento Convention

By LESLEY G. LODGE

THE TIME—THE PLACE

April 5-8, 1962. Hotel El Dorado, on Highway US 40, about two miles northeast of the center of Sacramento.

The hotel is a modern motor-hotel, with all conveniences—24 acres of ground; ample parking space for 2000 automobiles; choice of sleeping rooms; dining room and coffee shop facilities; the "Aztec" room for liquid refreshments; and a swimming pool.

Ample accommodations are available for all activities—bourse, exhibits, auction, business meetings, banquet and other affairs.

Theme of this 30th semi-annual convention is "California's Golden Empire."

Sunday, April 8

12:00 Noon Convention adjourned.

BID BOARD AUCTION

The auction will be conducted by Donlew Company (Don Thompson of Reno and Lew Walker of Sacramento). A new Bid Board System will be inaugurated, which they believe will streamline the auction bidding by allowing a person to check the bid board at various times during the day and to re-submit his bid if he desires. A person will not have to sit through the regular auction session waiting for the coins he desires to come up for bid; the system will allow a person to attend other features of the convention which may be taking place at the same time.

The bid board will be installed immediately behind the auction display, with personnel in attendance at all times to register the bidder's bid and to record it on the bid board.

The personnel in charge at the board will be pleased to answer any questions as to its operation.

BOURSE

Frank Roza, 4041 El Camino, Palo Alto, is bourse chairman. Roza states there is plenty of room for the dealers (unless an unprecedented record number apply). There is excellent lighting and air-conditioning in the bourse room.

EXHIBITS

Darvin L. (Ace) Reiswig, 2307 Haldis Way, Sacramento 22, is exhibit chairman. There is ample room for all competitive exhibits. In addition, there will be one section devoted to non-competitive exhibits—the Bank of America's quarter-million dollar gold display; Ronnie Carr's gold exhibit; and a display of historical items concerning the Pony Express.

SECURITY

Arrangements have been made with a local group of efficient law enforcement officers for "around-the-clock" protection.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS

Any questions arising as to rooms at the El Dorado (or other nearby motels) should be taken up with Lew Walker, CSNA convention general chairman, 4419 Orange Grove Ave., Sacramento 21.

SILVER DOLLAR HUNT

Several thousand silver dollars will be available at a special booth. Among these will be many CC dollars, redeemable at $5 each. Inquire at the registration desk for full particulars.

SPECIAL TOURS

Thursday morning will feature a tour of Sutter's Fort, and Friday morning a tour of various City of Sacramento historical landmarks and the State Capitol building. Check with the registration desk as to details.

The interesting and fascinating Mother Lode country is but a few miles to the east of Sacramento, within easy driving range by automobile.

LADIES' FRIDAY LUNCHEON

In addition to a delicious luncheon, served on the hotel premises, a pleasant treat is in store for those attending with a home decorating and arts and crafts demonstration.

FRIDAY NIGHT FORUM

Col. Waddell F. Smith, a direct descendant of W. B. Waddell of Russell, Majors and Waddell, founders of the Pony Express, will be speaker. His subject—Pony Express Days.

This is the educational feature of our convention, and everyone is invited to attend.

OFFICERS' BREAKFAST

This breakfast is open to all officers of CSNA and the various local clubs. At these breakfasts the good and the bad points of club meetings, conventions, and other matters pertinent to the operation of coin clubs, usually are discussed.

SATURDAY NIGHT BANQUET

This banquet is the highlight of the convention. Dinner—good fellowship —a minimum of "gab" from those seated at the head table—presentation of the exhibit and literary awards —presentation of special awards—feature this event.

Who's Who In California Numismatics

L. P. Walker Jr.

By R. G. McARTHUR

The 30th semi-annual convention of the California State Numismatic Association, to be held in Sacramento April 5-8, promises to be one of the greatest. It is fitting and proper at this time, that I introduce to you the general chairman of that convention —Lew Walker.

The son of L. P. Sr. and Irene C. Walker, Lew was born Jan. 22, 1916, in East Orange, N. J.

The Walkers resided in Bogota, N. J., from the time Lew was 2 years of age until he was 22. There he received his education at Bogota Primary, Bogota High School and Bergen Junior College.

Due to adverse economic conditions in 1934, sometimes called "The Depression," Walker was forced to leave college. His first job was in a paper box factory in Bogota. Since then "I have had 17,000 different jobs." The year 1935 found Lew operating an elevator in New York City. From 1938 to 1960 he held various positions in radio and television, including that of announcer. During this time, the family lived seven years in New York City, three years in Sag Harbor, Long Island, and two years in Great Falls, Mont. In 1949, the Walkers migrated to Sacramento, Calif., their present home.

In 1938, while living in New York, Lew Walker married Sally Wolpack of Sag Harbor. They have three children, Gail 19. Dennis 15, and Patricia 11. Like their father, the children are all coin collectors.

Called into the U. S. Army in 1942, Lew served with the ground forces in the Pacific Theater. He was discharged Dec. 25, 1945, with the rank of sergeant.

Walker first became interested in coins at the age of 10, but never became a serious collector until about 1950. Starting with some of the coins acquired in his early days, plus those obtained while overseas, he rapidly progressed to the point where, in 1956, he set up a part-time coin shop of his own.

Numismatically speaking, 1956 was a big year for Lew. He joined the American Numismatic Association, the Delta Coin Club and with the help of Steve Reynolds of Sacramento, he organized the Sacramento Valley Coin Club. He served the last mentioned club as temporary chairman and as its first elected president. In 1957, Lew became a member of the California State Numismatic Association. He also is affiliated with the Numismatic Association of Southern California and the newly formed Northern California Numismatic Association.

In addition to coin collecting, ancient to modern, Walker's hobbies are boating and photography. He is a keen student of and is vitally interested in administrative organization, personnel relations, publicity, public relations and commercial display.

On June 1, 1961, Lew Walker of Sacramento and Don Thompson of

Editor C. V. Kappen Resigns

Charles V. Kappen, editor of Calcoin News since January 1950, has resigned that office, effective April 8 at conclusion of the Sacramento convention.

He will be succeeded at that time by Lesley G. Lodge of San Francisco, presently assistant editor for Northern California.

Editor Kappen took over the California State Numismatic Association Bulletin at the 1949 fall CSNA convention in San Diego, succeeding L. C. Panosh, who had begun it in 1947. Kappen renamed the periodical Calcoin News in March 1950. Except for the period November 1951-July 1953, he has edited the magazine ever since. During that time he was in Army service in Formosa, Japan and Korea.

Editor Kappen is professor of journalism at San Jose State College. Before coming to San Jose, he had taught journalism at Shrivenham University (England), University of Wisconsin and University of Tulsa. His professional experience includes 16 years as reporter, sports editor, city editor, managing editor and editor of Midwestern and Southwestern daily newspapers; two years as publicity director of Crescent College for Women, and a year as editor of a tourist magazine. He has written many articles for national magazines.

Writings on his coin hobby have been many and varied. One article, "English Regal Copper Coinage," was reprinted in the recent Selections from the Numismatist series. Professor Kappen served on the Reprint Advisory Committee, U. S. Books, for the ANA Reprints project.

During the Korean War he was public information officer for the Seventh Armored Division and for Camp Roberts, Calif., and for Headquarters, Far East Command, Tokyo, Japan, and Seoul, Korea. During World War II he was company commander of a tank destroyer gun company, battalion S-3, assistant G-3 for a group of 16 battalions, and education officer at the Pentagon and at General Eisenhower's headquarters, England and France. He is a retired Army major.

At San Jose, Professor Kappen teaches courses in ethics, problems and policies of the press, journalism history and the press and world affairs. He is faculty adviser for the college daily newspaper, Spartan Daily.

Professor Kappen reprinted Lyman Low's book, Hard Times Tokens, in 1955. He is co-author, with Ralph A. Mitchell, of the recently published book, Depression Scrip of the United States, and is co-author with Hal E. Hibler, Cambridge, Mass., of So-Called Dollars, a book soon to be published.

He is a member of American Association of University Professors, Association for Education in Journalism, Sigma Delta Chi, Pi Delta Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and other organizations. He has been listed in Who's Who in American Education and in Who's Who on the Pacific Coast.

Professor Kappen was listed in Who's Who in California Numismatics in November 1951. In 1956, he and Dr. C. L. Emmons were awarded the first two CSNA Medals of Merit.

Lodge, an active member of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society, San Francisco, has held every office in that Society during the past 12 years, including editorship of the Society's Bulletin. He has written several articles for Calcoin News.

15th Anniversary of CSNA

In February, the CSNA celebrated its 15th anniversary. How the Association has grown since the meeting called by Dr. Calvert L. Emmons was held in Santa Barbara Feb. 22, 1947, with 12 organizing members! These were: Dr. Calvert L. Emmons, David Redfield, Leonel Panosh, Stewart Bingham, Kenneth Lee, Roy Hill, Ralph A. Mitchell, Edward Fogler, Earl Parker, David Dinius and J. R. Stewart. At that first meeting objectives of the Association were determined and officers were elected as follows: Dr. Emmons, president; David Redfield, vice president; Leonel Panosh, secretary-treasurer, and Stewart Bingham, librarian-curator-historian. (There was no Board of Directors until the second convention, held in Fresno Feb. 22, 1948.)

These men believed the State was big enough that such a statewide organization could be of service to its members and to collectors in general. By the end of this meeting it was decided to hold two conventions a year, one in the spring in the northern part of the state and the other in the fall of the year in the Southern part of the state. CSNA dues were established at $1 a year. Also at this time, the CSNA joined the ANA.

By the time the first convention was held in Bakersfield Oct. 11-12, 1947, there were 129 members, representing 40 California communities. The first clubs to join at that time were: PCNS, San Francisco; California Coin Club, Los Angeles; Orange County Coin Club, Orange County; SDNS, San Diego; and Bay Cities Coin Club, Santa Monica and vicinity.

Actually the meeting at Santa Barbara was the second held to organize the Association. The first, called by Dr. Emmons to be held in Fresno Jan. 12, 1947, was not fruitful, due to bad weather conditions.

The Association has grown so now it has a membership of nearly 700. Many members are from other states and from foreign countries.

The Bulletin, published first time in 1947, was not dated, but came out approximately in June. It was known as CALIFORNIA STATE NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION until March 1950, when it was given the name Calcoin News. Leonel Panosh edited the Bulletin 1947-1949. Charles V. Kappen became editor with the January 1950 issue, and has held the position since, except for a period while in the service when Leonel Panosh filled in for him.

The first auction was conducted by Kenneth W. Lee and Earl A. Parker. Since then others have conducted it, each presenting very good material to be bid upon.

The first cases, used in Bakersfield, were just wood frames with glass set over them. At the second convention, held in Fresno, the frames were converted to closed cases with locks.

Almost every convention has broken a record in one way or another either by registration, exhibits, banquet attendance, or bourse dealers. At the first convention there were 13 exhibitors, 9 bourse dealers and 119 registrations. At the last convention (29th, Santa Monica), there were 35 exhibitors, 83 bourse dealers and 484 registered. Some of the by-laws have been changed to keep pace with growth of the Association.

The number of officers increased as the Association grew, for it was more work than one person could handle. We all should be proud of the Association and the progress it has made in the past 15 years. The CSNA does not belong to just a few, but to each and every one of its members. It is your Association. So continue to do your part to make it just as successful in the future as in the past.

Recent Issues of Tokens and Medals

By DOROTHY E. BEAULIEU

EDUCOIN CO. MEDALS

Sixth in the commemorative series issued by Educoin Co., Inc., is the Andrew Jaekson—War of 1812 Sesquicentennial medal struck under official auspices of the Louisiana Historical Soeiety. Other Educoin issues this year will be the 1962 Rex "Doubloon" and the Louisiana Statehood Sesquicentennial medal. The latter, sponsored by the Louisiana Historical Soeiety, will be released April 15.

The Educoin Co. prefers to design and strike sponsored and private issued medals but on oecasion will continue to produce pieces whieh it feels are signifieant from a eivie or patriotie standpoint. Present plans are for at least 11 other private issues for 1962 but not more than three public issues.

Medallions struek thus far are 1960 Rex "Doubloon"; 1961 Rex "Doubloon"; 1961 Civil War Centennial; 1961 Steamboat (Sesquicentennial-Western Rivers); 1961 Blessing of the Fleet (Morgan City, La.); 1961 St. Patrick-1500 year obitus; 1962 Andrew Jaekson; 1962 Rex "Doubloon." All of the publie issues (Blessing of the Fleet exeepted) earry .999 fine silver strikes and are unlimited as to pattern strikes in aluminum, sinee those are issued for educational purposes only.

The Blessing of the Fleet had a silver strike of only 650, but will become an annual issue of 2900 strikes in future. Some of the private issues, such as Rex, are available to the publie upon inquiry to Educoin Co., Inc., 940 Perdido St., New Orleans 12, La.

SAINT-GAUDENS MEDAL

Toivo Johnson, Box 252, Brewer, Maine, has designed and issued the Augustus Saint-Gaudens medal, first in a series eommemorating famous coin designers. Obverse shows Saint-Gaudens' award winning portrayal of Christopher Columbus, exeeuted for the Columbian Exposition. On reverse are shown his home in Cornish, N. H., and his finest work in coins, the Roman date double eagle. Medals, 3 inches in diameter, are prieed at $5.50 bronze and $30 silver.

IOWA CONSERVATION DAY

A medal was issued by Medal Collectors Club of Iowa in conjunction with Iowa Conservation Field Day and State Plowing Match in Marshalltown, Sept. 22. Reverse shows club emblem. Medals are 1 5/16 in. and are available in sterling silver at $3.25; bronze, 75 cents; aluminum, 35 eents.

KSNA CONVENTION MEDAL

The KSNA medal was issued in connection with the first annual convention of the Kentucky State Numismatic Association at Louisville November 3, 4 and 5. It commemorates the Civil War Centennial 1961, and Kentucky, the state having two presidents at one time, Lincoln of the North and Davis of the South.

Obverse pictures bust portraits of Lincoln and Davis, with the legend "United We Stand, Divided We Fall . . . Civil War Centennial." Reverse depicts a replica of the famous Kentucky Cent, a private issue which circulated in the United States circa 1793. Each state is shown as a star in a triangle with Kentucky at the zenith. Struck in dollar size, the medal is offered in bronze, sterling silver and platinum, the latter by special order only. Sterling silver medals are limited to an issue of 1000 and are serially numbered. One medal was struck in solid gold and presented to the governor of Kentucky for placement in the state museum at Frankfort. Sterling silver and bronze medals are priced at $10 and $2, respectively.

PONY EXPRESS TERMINATION

Completion of the Transcontinental Telegraph Oct. 24, 1861, brought to an end the 18-month operation of the heroic Pony Express. That same date in 1961 marks the end of the official centennial celebration. By special Act of Congress, the Association commemorated the event by offering the "Termination Medal" as its final and only issue of 1961. It is available in two sizes and metals.

The large 2¼ inch silver medal depicts the coming of the telegraph and the dismounted Pony Express Rider who has completed his service. Obverse features heads of owners and operators of the Pony Express: Russell, Majors and Waddell, and an old telegraph key. Only 1000 of these medals were produced by the United States Mint.

The small medal, 1 5/16 in. in diameter, also depicts the end of the Pony Express operation and the coming of the telegraph. It is slightly different in design due to its smaller size. Silver medals are priced at $4.50 and bronze at $1.50.

PRESIDENTIAL ART MEDALS

A George Washington medal, third in the Presidential Art Series, was issued early in December. Previous issues honored Kennedy and Lincoln. Three or four medals a year will be struck until the series is complete. New medals will be struck thereafter as Presidents are inaugurated.

A RARITY SCALE

Some numismatic works give the value of the coins being described at the time of publication. Even then, such prices can only be comparative as the value of each and every piece depends on its condition, i.e., state of preservation. Furthermore, some of these books are still standard works on their series, but the values given are quite out of date and have been for many years. There have been, therefore, 12 degrees of rarity set up and they are as follows:

R7 Only one or two examples known

R6 Three or four examples known

R5 Five to ten examples known

R4 Eleven to twenty examples known

R3 Extremely rare

R2 Very rare

R Rare

S Scarce

N Normal, neither scarce nor common

C Common

C2 Very common

C3 Extremely common

We think you will find this useful to know, especially when you are looking through reference books, or some of the English publications.

KIPPER AND WIPPER

"Kipper" and "Wipper" were the names of two German men who, during the beginning of the 17th century, cut the edges of coins and therefore changed and devalued their weight (value).

They also put completely fake coins into circulation. Since that time, most coins have been minted with reeded edge and all kinds of ornaments close to the edge, to prevent future falsifications.—Kurt Loret.

'So-Called Dollars' To Be Published Soon

Last summer, Hal E. Hibler and Charles V. Kappen announced that they planned to publish their book, So-Called Dollars: Guide Book and Standard Catalog, first of the year.

They asked for brief descriptions of medals not in Kenney, and, as a result, mail poured in from every section of the country, containing listings of collections, descriptions and rubbings of medals, as well as medals themselves. This slowed down their work on book content considerably, but did add to its completeness. It should be all the better for the delay.

New deadline for receipt of material to be catalogued was reached Jan. 31. The book, which will be off the press this spring, will be divided into three parts: Commemorative and Exposition Medals of National Interest; Commemorative and Exposition Medals of Localized Interest; and Monetary and Miscellaneous Issues.

The following criteria were established for medals catalogued:

United States only.

Minimum Diameter — Size 21 (1 5/16 in. or 33 mm.)

Maximum Diameter — Size 28 (1¾ in. or 45 mm.); however, Bryan dollars will be listed.

No holed or looped material unless struck plain also; no purely presidential or political medals; no school, college or athletic medals; no coin club or U. S. Armed Forces medals; no calendar or store cards; no trade tokens or emergency money; no unique or near-unique items (except in appendix).

Some of the material excluded above is too abundant to permit proper consideration, according to the authors, while other subjects have been covered long since by qualified authorities. "We deal only with commemorative, exposition, monetary and kindred medals of approximate dollar size," Hibler explained.

"Our objective is to publish the best and most comprehensive reference work possible," Hibler said. "Background stories, requiring years of research, will accompany most issues appearing in the first and third parts. The book will be profusely illustrated, cloth bound, well indexed, and cross indexed with Kenney."

Kenney listed a total of only 33 issues and 181 medals, but the Hibler-Kappen revision will cover more than 200 issues and more than 500 medals.

Joint Convention Of ANA and CNA

The first combined convention of the American and Canadian numismatic associations will be held Aug. 15-18, at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit. This is the first international numismatic convention to be held in the New World.

The hotel, largest in the Motor City, offers well-lighted, spacious facilities for dealers' bourse and for individual exhibitions of coins. Provisions are being made for complete security for items on display. Both functions and guest rooms of the hotel are completely air conditioned.

The bourse and exhibits at the convention will be displayed in three newly-decorated ballrooms on one floor to facilitate easy inspection by dealers, collectors, and visitors.

LOS ANGELES CORRAL ISSUES NINTH BOOK

Latest Brand Book to be issued by the Los Angeles Corral contains a section by Henry H. Clifford, "Pioneer Gold Coinage in the West—1848-1861." Clifford is a CSNA member. Other sections of the volume are concerned with subjects of Western historical interest. Book is on sale for $20 by Westerners Brand Book, 1264 S. Central Ave., Glendale 4, Calif. (Checks should be made payable to Westerners Publication Fund.)

North of the Tehachapis

By LESLEY G. LODGE

Bakerfield Coin Club is joining with Bakersfield Stamp Club to stage a joint convention May 4-6 in the Kern City Town Hall, a short distance from downtown Bakersfield. Donlew Company of Sacramento-Reno will conduct the auction, using its new bid board system.

November meeting of East Bay Coin Club featured Wayne Wilcox, speaking on "The Buffalo Nickel and Its Designer"; and February meeting featured Clifford L. Liss on U. S. Silver Dollars."

Officers for 1962 are Walter Morris, president; D. S. Booth, vice president; S. J. Haas, recording secretary; Elsie J. East, corresponding secretary; and Don D. Crosman, treasurer.

Ferndale Stamp and Hobby Club's fifth anniversary was celebrated by a dinner-meeting Nov. 17.

At the January meeting—the ladies took over—and officers for 1962 are Miss Janice Hallberg, president; Mrs. Marge Lawton, vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Hallberg, secretary; and Miss Janet Lawton, treasurer. Donald D. Lawton (greatly outnumbered by the ladies) continues as activity director.

Recently while digging in the local churchyard, Don Lawton found a token reading "Good for one 5¢ loaf of bread," and on the other side "Edward Gielsdorf, Eureka, Cal." Investigation developed there was a Gielsdorf bakery in Eureka a few years prior to 1915.

Officers of the Fresno Numismatic Society for 1962 are Earl Watson, president; Fred Tinkham, vice president; Tom Duffy, auctioneer; Marilyn Hord, secretary-treasurer. Plans call for an active membership drive during the year.

William Lee spoke at the February meeting on "Odd and Curious."

Members of the society have made arrangements to visit the Sorting Room at the City Hall, to see sorting and counting machines in operation handling parking meter coins. It is hoped to work out a better and more equitable distribution of sacks of these coins for those persons desiring them.

Hayward Area Coin Club officers for 1962 are Rennie Booth, president; Ed Cook, vice president; Jeannie Squires, recording secretary; Al Evans, corresponding secretary; and James Teeslink, treasurer.

Lake Tahoe Coin Club officers for 1962 are Al Warren, president; James Taylor, vice president; and Catherine Hunter, secretary-treasurer.

November meeting of Liberty Numismatic Society consisted of "Odd and Curious Monies"; and December meeting was entitled "Holiday Season Festivities." January meeting featured "U. S. Copper Coins"; and at the February meeting Paul D. Snedaker spoke on "Beginnings of Money."

The treasurer of the United States, Elizabeth Bedell Smith, was in Monterey in November 1961, and several of the Monterey Peninsula Coin Club members were fortunate in meeting her. She signed some $1 bills, and Warren Claunch, club secretary, obtained one of them for his collection.

December meeting consisted of short talks by four of the club members, Jerry Johnson on Guatemalan coins; Bob Summers on gold coins in general; Oscar Roberson on foreign and South American coins; and Linden G. Leavitt on unusual money of South Africa.

At the January meeting the following officers were elected for 1962: Col. Everett Higgins, president; Col. Warren Clear, vice president; Mrs. Leona Heller, secretary; and Jerry J. John- son, treasurer. They were installed officially at the seventh annual dinner-meeting Feb. 19.

November meeting of Napa Valley Coin Club consisted of showing the film "Deep Gold," based on operations of the Homestake Mining Company of South Dakota. Wayne Wilcox, who is familiar with the mine, answered many questions about it.

John Lucas spoke at the January meeting on "Commemoratives."

As the club closed its first year, membership totaled about 110; and the senior members gave much credit for success of the club to junior members, who were quite active at the meetings and who conducted themselves in a most exemplary manner.

November meeting of Pacific Coast Numismatic Society consisted of reports from various members who had attended the CSNA convention at Santa Monica. A highlight of the convention for PCNS president Milton Strauch was a birthday recognition at the banquet.

December meeting was the usual Christmas party and election of 1962 officers. The incumbents, Milton C. Strauch, president; Paul D. Snedaker, vice president; John D. Sears, treasurer; and Mrs. Harry Cutler, secretary, were re-elected. Six papers had been turned in for the 1961 papers contest, and winners were Mrs. Harry Cutler and Lesley G. Lodge, tied for first-second place, and Clifford L. Liss, third place. The papers contest will be continued in 1962.

January meeting featured trade coins of the world and Mrs. Cutler read her prize-winning paper, "The United States Trade Dollar."

Peninsula Coin Club meetings have been changed, and are now held the fourth Monday of the month (instead of the first Thursday), at Palo Alto Community Center, 1305 Middlefield Road, Palo Alto.

February meeting featured coins, medals, tokens and other items pertaining to Lincoln and Washington.

Redding Numismatic Society has donated its collection of numismatic catalogs, books and papers to the Shasta County public library, feeling that it will benefit the public as well as making it more convenient for its own club members to use these items.

Robert Hetland spoke recently at the Redding Business and Professional Women's Club, discussing "Coin Collecting."

The February meeting featured "Lincoln Night."

Until formation of the Wonderland Coin Club at Yreka, RNS claimed the distinction of having no other coin club within 100 miles. Now it is only 60 miles to another club; and after arrival of better weather, RNS hopes to exchange some meetings with the Yreka club.

1962 officers for San Jose Coin Club are Denis N. Hooker, president; Glen Shake, vice president; Lillian M. Hooker, recording secretary; Dave Crusefelli, corresponding secretary; Edward Sins, treasurer; and Dorothy Beaulieu, librarian. Meetings are held at 7:30 p.m., first Monday of each month at the chambers of the Board of Supervisors, 20 W. Rosa St., San Jose.

While one of the smaller clubs, interest in the meetings of the Santa Cruz Coin Club is high. Plans are being made for an active part in the coming Coast Counties Coin Carnival, May 26-27, and for a membership drive in 1962.

"Deep Gold," a color movie showing operations of the Homestake Mining Co., was the highlight of the December meeting of Vallejo Numismatic Society. Homestake is considered the largest gold mine in operation in the western hemisphere at present.

"My Favorite Coin" was theme of the January meeting. Many of those present spoke on the coin or coins they had on the exhibit table.

February meeting featured Walter Gerth speaking on "Odd and Curious Money." Gerth exhibited many interesting items from his extensive collection.

OUR NORTHERN NEIGHBORS

Willamalane Coin Club of Springfield, Ore., held its fourth annual jamboree at Willamalane Jan. 26-28. Several CSNA members were in attendance.

William N. Worth was elected president of Oregon Numismatic Society for 1962.

Pacific Northwest Numismatic Association will strike a special medal, commemorating both the PNNA convention, May 31-June 3, and the World's Fair Century 21.

CLUBS CONSOLIDATE

Modesto and Turlock Coin Clubs have merged, and are now known as Modesto-Turlock Coin Club. Officers for 1962 are N. O. Delano, president; Joly Boynton, vice president; Robert Swain, recording secretary; Frank Von Rojacs, corresponding secretary; and Edward T. Taylor Jr., treasurer. Two meetings a month—first Tuesday in Turlock, and third Tuesday in Modesto—will be held.

(Editor's note—These two cities are about 13 miles apart. Undoubtedly with larger attendance at the meetings, a livelier and stronger club will result. Perhaps other small local clubs, which are struggling to keep going, could consider consolidation with a nearby neighbor club.)

NEW CLUBS

Delano Coin Club has been organized, with Elghus James as president. Twelve years of age has been set as minimum for junior members.

Sierra Stamp and Coin Club is located in Grass Valley.

Livermore Valley Coin Collectors' Club meets the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m., in the Livermore Recreation Center, Eighth and H Sts.

Vaca Valley Coin Club, Mike Nash president, meets the first and third Mondays of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Hemlick School, Vacaville.

Wonderland Coin Club, E. R. Batson president, meets the second Monday in each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Littrell Parts Sales Room, Yreka.

Numismatic Society of Northern California (not to be confused with the regional group, Northern California Numismatic Association) meets the second Friday of each month at Josephine Randall Junior Museum, San Francisco. 1962 officers are Terence Faulkner, president; Melvin H. Krinsky, secretary; and Mrs. Cora Lohse, treasurer.

CONFEDERATE DISPLAY

Following a potluck spaghetti dinner, the January meeting of the San Bernardino County Coin Club was devoted to a Civil War theme. On display was one of five known silver Confederate cents and two Scott restrike Confederate half dollar pieces. These rare items, lent for the occasion by Mrs. C. Glenn Curtis of Brea, offered a unique opportunity for club members to view these seldom seen rarities. Also on display were the Civil War items collected by Bryan Burke, including bonds, tokens, currency and photos.

The entire display was closely guarded during the meeting by Edward Colver, who was attired in Confederate uniform, including musket.

TAKES SPACE JOURNEY

The 23rd annual banquet of the Orange County Coin Club proved to be a verbal trip into outer space. After the dinner, Winn Osborne, master of ceremonies, introduced Steig Gavelin of the Ford Foundation. Those in attendance traveled with Mr. Gavelin through the hazards encountered in space, and heard him explain space craft, fuels, and much of the fascinating information dealing with this up-to-the-minute topic.

Following the entertainment, Dr. C. L. Emmons installed 1962 club officers. He climaxed his message by assessing all the new officers $2 for the 1964 CSNA Disneyland convention fund. New president of Orange County Coin Club is William Wisslead. Herbert Bergen was re-elected secretary.

MONROVIA-COVINA COINORAMA

Collectors of the San Gabriel Valley area will gather Sunday, March 18, for the first annual Monrovia and Covina Coinorama. It will run all day, 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. The Elks Club of Monrovia, at 215 W. Foothill Blvd., has donated its facilities for the site.

Bourse tables, auction, exhibits and door prizes will be featured. Committee chairmen have been chosen and are at work to make this a successful show and to acquaint the public with America's No. 1 hobby. Bob Davis, Compton dealer, will conduct the auction. A snack bar will be handled by the "Future Nurses" of Monrovia High School. Mel Melton of Covina Club is general chairman.

YWCA SPONSORS CLASSES

The San Bernardino YWCA has organized a 10-week course in coin collecting as part of its regular educational program. The San Bernardino County Coin Club has agreed to furnish 10 speakers on as many different subjects relating to numismatics. Bryan Burke is directing the program, and was first speaker; his topic, "Introduction to Coin Collecting." Other speakers so far include Dan Harley, John Yribarne, Charles Colver and Fred Coops. Early attendance was small but interest is increasing and the club directors feel this civic project is a very worthwhile activity.

CHRISTMAS PARTIES GALORE

Coin club Christmas parties were in style for December meetings. Most clubs report special programs, dinners, gifts, Santa Claus, and a general spirit of the season prevailing. Clubs having special Yule programs are too numerous to mention here, but we think it is a fine idea. Hope Santa brought everyone a Merry Christmas along with that missing coin. Probably by next year someone will issue a special "North Pole" medal for the occasion.

CLUB REFUSES FORGERIES

Paul Hamm was announced as "Exhibitor of the Year" for 1961 at the January meeting of the San Diego Numismatic Society. Hamm won this honor by winning the most exhibit awards at monthly meetings in 1961.

A resolution, approved by the 146 persons present at the meeting, follows:

"The sale of unmarked replicas, reproductions and copies of numismatic items, except those struck copies generally recognized as being collectible, is banned with any bourse, auction or direct sale under the control of this Society. This ban will be made public within numismatic circles and it is urged that other coin clubs consider adopting and enforcing this ban."

Awards went to Harvey Rose, best in show, for coins issued during the reign of Queen Victoria of England, and to A. F. Andersen, first place, for an exhibit of fractional currency.

CALIFORNIA MISSION MEDALS

Members and guests of the Glendale Coin Club attending the January meeting heard Joseph Mirkovich describe the California Mission medals now being struck. These medals commemorate the founding of the California Missions under the guidance of Fray Junipero Serra along the famed "El Camino Real." There will be 22 medals in the set, which it will take about three and one-half years to complete. Several of the drawings were on display as were two defaced dies of the first two medals. All dies will be publicly destroyed after each issue is completed.

ORANGE SHOW

The combined coin clubs of San Bernardino County again will sponsor a large numismatic exhibit at the National Orange Show. This year the Orange Show will be open March 15-25. In past years the joint coin exhibit has proved to be one of the most popular attractions of the entire fair.

TOKEN TOPIC

At the January meeting of Bay Cities Coin Club, a talk on Tokens of England, by Jim Betton, proved quite interesting and thought-provoking. He mentioned that there are 70,000 different varieties of English tokens, making an extremely large field for anyone to collect. Prices are fairly moderate at present, and if the tokens are compared to the number of pieces minted, they might be called cheap.

Many of the varieties only had a few hundred minted, yet are quite available. England started making tokens in the 11th century, and there were tokens made off and on until the 19th century. In 1842 they were all called in and exchanged at half face value. Millions of tokens were turned in then, costing the Bank of England a considerable amount of money. Numismatic speculators purchased a large percentage of these tokens at that time, which is one reason so many nice specimens are available today. (Editor's note: Speculators in the 19th century?)

LOS ANGELES COIN CLUB SAYS

The 1962 officers, led by President Walter T. Snyder, accept a challenge, since the year 1961 set several records: "Largest attendance ever recorded for a single meeting—334 in May; 400th meeting in July; voting in 1000th member in August, and an active increase in exhibits for each regular meeting. The secretary's year-end report shows 107 new members were accepted during 1961. This leads us to believe we can still claim our title, 'World's Largest Coin Club.'

"A special invitation is extended to everyone to come and join us on the first Friday of each month, Forrester's Hall, 1329 S. Hope St., 8 p.m. With our 12 regular bourse dealers—good programs—outstanding exhibits—door prizes—refreshments—auction—there is a numismatic interest to cover each need. Our monthly publication, "The Wire Edge," gives a complete report of all activities to our regular members."

HERE AND THERE

East Los Angeles Coin Club has moved its meeting place to Carpenters Hall, 932 S. Gerhart Ave., on the third Monday. . . . Bob Davis and Art Ford are proprietors of The Money Mart, recently opened in Compton. They are dealers in coins, stamps, and related supplies. . . . Peter B. Payne of San Bernardino has announced future publication of "Primitive Money Quarterly," a journal of odd and curious media of exchange. . . . Southern Hub Coin Club has adopted an idea developed by Pauline Ney to encourage displays. At each monthly meeting club members are invited to display, the audience serves as judges by voting on the exhibit that most appeals to them as a collector, or a non-collector. Winners are awarded ribbons. . . . The second annual Pomona Coin-A-Rama will be held at the L. A. County Fair Grounds June 23-24. . . . Another new coin club has been recently organized. This one by the employees of Kaiser Steel at Fontana.

Bill Goodno has been elected first president. . . . Past President Ben Bieringer of Bay Cities Coin Club was presented with a plaque for outstanding service. The award took place at the January meeting. . . . Jac D. Meacham announces he is opening a new coin shop in La Mesa called Calavo Coin Co. The principal line of the new firm will be numismatic supplies, with a limited amount of coins and medals. . . . The J. W. Robinson Co. Pasadena store has started a coin department, with Herb Goldman in charge. . . . Coin club wives brought their hobbies (and hubbies) to the January meeting of the Fontana United Numismatists. Each wife participating was interviewed regarding her hobby (not hubby). . . . Richard P. Goodson, president of the Numismatic Association of Southern California, was stricken with a heart attack Jan. 12. All his fellow numismatists join in wishing Dick a speedy recovery. . . . Mrs. Val Yarbrogh, member of North American Coin Club, was one of the unfortunate persons to lose her home during the recent Bel-Air fire. Among items lost was her entire coin collection. . . . "The House of Coins" has been chosen for the name of a coin dealership which for the past two years has been conducted under the name of the owner, George S. Johnson, San Diego. . . . Paul Weiger, Los Angeles coin dealer, recently looked up to greet a customer and found himself looking down the wrong end of a gun barrel. Weiger was so infuriated at the prospect of being robbed that he reached over, quickly disarmed the culprit, and held him at the point of his own gun until arrival of the police. . . . Lawndale Coin Club recently voted to donate $25 to the Gardena Valley Home for Children as its annual contribution to a local charity. . . . Charles Johnson, Long Beach, is currently writing a series of articles on small U. S. currency for the Coin World weekly newspaper. . . . Max Justus and Nathan Eisenberg have opened a new coin business in Los Angeles under the name Westchester Coin and Stamp Shop. . . . La Mesa Coin Club has announced the issuing of a dollar-size sterling silver medal to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the founding of La Mesa. . . . Palmdale Coin Club's January meeting featured a discussion on the use of solutions to restore dates on worn buffalo nickels. . . . El Monte City Recreation Department has formed a new coin club in that area. It meets at Civic Center every fourth Monday. Vern W. Snell is president. . . . W. D. McCullough has announced the opening of a new coin shop in Hermosa Beach called Hermosa Old Coins. He will specialize in Lincolns and Buffalos.

EXPLAINS BANK SYSTEM

Banker Kenneth Kelly, Victorville, spoke at the January meeting of the Victor Valley Numismatic Association on U. S. paper money. Kelly also explained the relationship of local banks to the Federal Reserve System. He pointed out the usual differences between counterfeit and legal paper money.

EXONUMIST NEWS

The Southern California Exonumist Society met at the Mission Inn, Riverside, for its first annual convention Feb. 3-4. Attendance totaled 250. Co-chairmen were Dan Harley and Dr. Calvert L. Emmons.

These California collectors of tokens, medals, obsolete paper money and scrip were gathered in their first two-day meeting since SCES was founded Dec. 4, 1960. Doubling in duty as sixth quarterly meeting of the group, it probably was the largest numismatic gathering ever held in the United States at which no coins or government banknotes were sold or displayed.

The executive board, presided over by President Paul H. Hamm of San Diego, discussed possible expansion of SCES into a larger West Coast group. It was resolved to publicize possible formation of a Western States Conference of Exonumist groups, closely affiliated with the national Token and Medal Society (TAMS). A resolution to ban from auction or bourse sale all unmarked replicas, reproductions and copies of rare numismatic items was unanimously adopted by the board. While not specifically banned, recent restrikes of the Confederate Cent and Continental Dollar Copy were roundly scored by board members.

Ralph A. Mitchell and Russell Rulau, who conducted the auctions, report brisk sales of so-called dollars, Civil War tokens, trade checks in large lots, foreign medallions, paper money of all kinds, Israeli medals, badges and decorations. Notably slow were most of the recent modern medals.

Dan Harley, Pomona, conducted installation of 1962 officers: President Paul Hamm, Vice President Ralph A. Mitchell, Secretary Russell Rulau, Treasurer Virginia Culver and Board Members Dr. C. L. Emmons, Leonel Panosh and Pauline Ney.

Exhibits included 22 cases of outstanding exonumist material. First award was won by Elizabeth Case of Burbank for her "Exonumia of Conventions" exhibit. Second award went to Harvey Rose of La Mesa for his "Medals of Mexico." Ethel Stone of Temple City won third place award.

SCES membership is now 115, with a goal of 200 by the end of this year.

More information on SCES may be obtained from the secretary, 4007 Casita Way, San Diego 15. Next quarterly meeting date will be May 6.

SAN DIEGO SILVER JUBILEE

January meeting of the San Diego Numismatic Society was a silver anniversary banquet held at the U. S. Grant Hotel. Dan Harley was master of ceremonies and Leonel Panosh installed 1962 officers. Herbert Bergen spoke on "The History of Numismatics".

Ninety-two members and guests were present. President Douglas Decker presented life memberships to Leonel Panosh and Charles M. Johnson. Paul Hamm received "Exhibitor of the Year" award.

San Diego Numismatic Society is third oldest coin club west of the Mississippi River.

Reno, Nev., formed a partnership known as "The Don Lew Co." Their first auction sale (a very successful one) was the CSNA 29th semi-annual convention sale at Santa Monica Nov. 2-5, 1961. Their second sale will be in connection with the coming CSNA convention in Sacramento. Just in case you missed them at Santa Monica, you can see this fine team in action at the El Dorado in Sacramento, Calif., April 5-8.

San Diego Issues Anniversary Medal

The San Diego Numismatic Society has issued a silver medal to commemorate its 25th birthday, which will be observed throughout 1962. The medals are being sold to members and nonmembers at the price of $6 each.

The medal is size 25 (1 9/16 in. in diameter) and is slightly thicker than a U. S. silver dollar. Each piece is serially numbered and was struck by the Medallic Art Co. of New York. One thousand medals were struck. Designs are by Robert J. Brosch of National City, Calif., a member of the Society.

The obverse shows Peace kneeling, holding a pair of olive branches around the figure 25. Below the figure is a coin album, signifying the science of numismatics. The City of San Diego is represented on reverse. The belfry is from the Mission San Diego de Alcala in San Diego, founded by Fray Junipero Serra on July 16, 1769. The two pillars are from the Spanish pillar dollar. The sailing ship is the "San Salvador," flagship of Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo. Cabrillo discovered San Diego Sept. 28, 1542. The two dolphins indicate the dependency of the port of San Diego on the sea.

These medals are being sold on a conscription basis. Orders for the medals with remittance should be sent to Francis S. Jones, Mintmaster, San Diego Numismatic Society, 732 Olive Ave., Coronado 18, Calif.
